Senate Condemns McCarthy, Then Adjourns

Substitutes Word 'Condemn' For 'Censure'

Senator Says Action Will Make Work More Difficult

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy declared today that his condemnation by the Senate will make his anti-Communist campaign "more difficult." But he vowed he will carry on anyway without letup.

"This censure will have no effect whatever on my attempt to expose Communists in government," he said. "I will continue the same as in the past. But it will be more difficult because of the vote."

In the first move of its kind in 26 years, the Senate late Thursday voted 67 to 22 to condemn the controversial Republican for "repeatedly abusing" a 1951-52 Elections subcommittee and for calling the Senate censure committee an "unwitting handmaiden" of the Communist party.

It completed action in the turbulent dispute after substituting the word "condemn" for "censure" in the final resolution and entirely dropping one count, sponsored by the committee, that accused McCarthy of abusing Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwickler.

Senate Adjourns

The big vote—climaxing a day of hectic maneuvering and months of stormy debate—sent off a wave of speculation today on the effect it will have on McCarthy's future, Republican unity, the Democrats, and the prestige of the Senate.

Two Democratic leaders said privately the vote will give McCarthy a big shove toward political eclipse although it leaves his powers and rights as a senator entirely intact. But Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.), a censure committee member, said he isn't at all sure about this.

Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.), the man who kicked off the censure controversy, said he expects McCarthy to show "an improvement." Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Ela.) expressed hope the senator will "handle himself more carefully" in future Communist investigations.

The Democrats voted solidly for McCarthy's rebuke in the final vote, but the Republicans split straight down the middle with 22 voting for and 22 against. It was a yawning chasm—with pro-Eisenhower Republicans roughly on one side and the old Taft wing on the other—and it runs deeper than the McCarthy issue alone.

Says Feeling Is Deep

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (Mass.), Senate GOP whip, admitted "deep feelings" were stirred up on both sides but expressed hope they will heal quickly. Republican Sens. Homer Ferguson (Mich.), Karl E. Mundt (SD), and Wallace F. Bennett (Utah) took the same position. But privately some Republicans expressed doubt the breach can ever be mended.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) predicted that some Republicans will unleash violent attacks on the Democrats because they went down the line for McCarthy's reprimand. McCarthy expressed "disappointment" at this unanimity today.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), a censure committee member, said the vote will have "a wholesome influence" on all senators and should result in a return to more dignity on the part of the Senate. McCarthy's friends claimed a partial victory because the final resolution "condemned" rather than "censured" McCarthy as earlier drafts had proposed.

But McCarthy apparently felt it was a distinction without a difference. He referred to the action as a "censure" and quipped that in any case it could hardly be called a "vote of confidence."

In any event, the condemnation was the stiffest rebuke the Senate can give one of its members short of expulsion which was never seriously considered in McCarthy's case.

Flanders Apologizes For Comparing McCarthy to Hitler

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.) apologized to the Senate and to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) Thursday for comparing the Wisconsin Republican to "Hitler."

But his effort to erase the remark from the Senate's official journal was blocked by Sen. Herman Welker (R-Idaho).

Flanders made his move a few minutes after the Senate passed a resolution condemning McCarthy for his conduct and language abusing other senators.

Flanders, author of the original censure resolution against McCarthy, replied that the timing of his apology was something entirely under his own control.

"Then I object," Welker said.

Dale Testifies He Agreed to Settle Jurisdictional Dispute; Offer Refused

Peabody Report Optimistic For Future; Eyes Barge Transportation for Coal

By WILLIAM H. MEYERS

CHICAGO (UP)—Officials of Peabody Coal Co. said the firm's outlook for the future is optimistic and that a tremendous new coal field will be opened in Washington and Randolph counties within five years.

Peabody President Otto Gressens and the firm's financial vice president, R. J. Snider, appeared Thursday before a meeting of the Investment Analysts Society of Chicago.

In informal discussion of Peabody's prospects they said:

1. The firm has now completed its program of closing or curtailing marginal operations.

2. Virtually all future operations are planned with an eye to barge transportation of coal to beat high rail costs.

3. The firm plans to concentrate on production of high grade industrial coal which requires very little processing.

Gressens said the firm is banking on a big industrial expansion predicted for the Midwest and particularly the valleys of the Ohio, Mississippi, Illinois and Missouri rivers.

As a result, he said, the firm is making extensive engineering studies for an opening in the "not too far distant future" of 42,000 acres of coal reserves which Peabody owns or has under option in Washington and Randolph counties.

He said the reserves are estimated at 250-400 million tons lying within 25 to 50 miles of the Mississippi from a point 25 miles to 90 miles south of Belleville.

Snider, in answer to a question, said he thought it would be safe to say that exploitation of the field would begin within five years.

"The coal lies in a seam running from six feet thick at the south end to about eight feet thick in the north," Gressens said. "It's 125 to 250 feet deep with good—although not excellent—roof conditions so that timbering costs won't be prohibitive. And there are no known faults in the geological structure."

Gressens said the thick seam of coal would permit the firm to use Goodman continuous mining machines which would boost production to a record of 35 tons per man per day. The firm's best production at present is 24 tons in its mine No. 10 at Taylorville.

As a result of improving prospects, he said, the firm hopes within five years to be again producing 14 to 15 million tons annually compared to this year's expected total output of eight million and last year's total of 11 million.

Gressens said it is possible that the firm may someday reopen some of the operations closed last year but said it is more likely that the company will step up production in currently operating mines to avoid the cost of installing expensive machinery in the shutdown shafts.

Circuit Judge B. W. Eovaldi of Benton, in a written decision filed in Gallatin county circuit court Nov. 30, held that caring for race horses is not an extra-hazardous enterprise or business as defined by the Illinois Workmen's Compensation act.

Eovaldi's decision was in the case of James M. "Buster" Stout against Stout, Harrisburg resident, had petitioned for an award for injuries received while taking care of Chamberlain's race horses stabled at Metropolis prior to the county fair there in 1952.

His petition said that while he was exercising one of the race horses, by riding it, he was thrown from the horse and suffered serious injury. For this injury he sought awarded compensation under the Illinois Workmen's Compensation act by Arbitrator O. P. Tuttle, and Tuttle's decision was later affirmed by the Industrial Commission of Illinois.

From this award, Chamberlain petitioned the circuit court of Gallatin county to vacate and set aside the award to Stout.

Chamberlain had not elected to come under the Workman's Compensation act, and the question arose as to whether he automatically came under the act because the business or enterprise of caring for race horses was extra-hazardous.

The court observed that there was no difference in caring for race horses than any other class of horses, such as those on a farm.

It was pointed out that there seemed to have been no decision of any court where the question had been decided, and the decision of Judge Eovaldi apparently has set a precedent in such cases.

Stout was represented by Atty. Lester Lightfoot of Harrisburg and Chamberlain by Atty. Arlie O. Boswell Sr. and Atty. Trafton Dennis, also of this city.

Annual Elks Memorial Service Sunday Afternoon

One of the most impressive events in the ritual of Elksdom will take place Sunday at the First Presbyterian church, when Harrisburg lodge No. 1058, B. P. O. Elks, observes its annual Memorial Service for departed brothers. An Elk tradition, the service is always held on the first Sunday in December.

The service, to which the public is invited, will begin at 2 p. m. Sunday and a special invitation is being sent to all families of deceased Elks to attend the service, at which Judge Trafton Dennis will be the speaker.

"The Elks Memorial Service is a hallowed annual event in which all Elks pay their respect to the memory of their departed brothers," exalted ruler H. E. Mitchell observed, "and the officers and members of Harrisburg lodge want to extend this invitation to everyone to attend this solemn and beautiful service."

Takes Stand After Acquittal Plea Rejected

Union Leader Denies He Called Or Led Strike at Joppa

BULLETIN

EAST ST. LOUIS (UP)—Evan R. Dale, southern Illinois AFL laborers boss on trial for a $1,030,000 shakedown attempt, denied on the witness stand today he ever called or led a strike at the huge Joppa, Ill., electric installation.

EAST ST. LOUIS (UP)—Evan R. Dale, southern Illinois AFL laborers boss charged with a $1,030,000 shakedown attempt at the huge Joppa, Ill., electric plant, testified today he agreed to settle a jurisdictional dispute involving piping but that the pipefitters' union rejected it.

Dale, on trial with James Bateman, pipefitters' official, on a three-count federal racketeering indictment, was the first witness in his own defense. He began testifying after U. S. Dist. Judge Fred L. Wham turned down defense motions for directed verdicts of acquittal.

The pudgy, 38-year-old Dale related that in June, 1951, he and Bateman met with Edgar Smith, international vice president of the AFL laborers, and agreed on settlement of a dispute over the installation of piping in the Joppa plant.

Later that day, Dale said, Bateman telephoned him to say that higher officers in the pipefitters union had rejected the agreement. He said the following day he and Smith met with officials of Ebasco Services Inc., prime contractor on the 160-million-dollar project, but were unable to settle the dispute.

No Comment on Dale Case

In turning down the motions for acquittal, Wham made no comment concerning Dale. He said the evidence against Bateman, was "very

Key Witness Fatally Stabbed At Phenix City

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (UP)—A key witness in the assassination of Atty. Gen. nominee Albert Patterson was stabbed to death Thursday night after trying in vain to reach authorities with an "urgent" message.

The witness, Johnnie F. Griffin, 35, was stabbed in a street fight that apparently had no connection with his witness role in the gangland style slaying that touched off a state drive against crime here.

His death two days after testifying before a blue ribbon grand jury investigating Patterson's death was a hard blow to the case, according to military authorities enforcing martial rule here.

Acting Atty. Gen. Bernard F. Sykes, in personal charge of the Patterson case, had announced shortly before the stabbing that the grand jury might indict a suspect within the next several days.

Patterson's death shortly after his nomination on a pledge to drive gangsterism from this sin city touched off the most intense crusade against vice in Alabama history.

The grand jury had already heard testimony by 60 of some 80 witnesses and was to resume its hearings behind heavily guarded doors today.

Griffin, described as being possibly the nearest witness to the gunplay last June 18, died on a hospital operating table at midnight.

National Guardsmen said Griffin got into a sidewalk argument with Miss Barbara Parker, about 21, a former night club stripper, and then was stabbed by a young Negro bystander.

A 16-year-old Negro boy arrested by National Guardsmen afterward as the admitted stabber had no previous criminal record and had not figured in the cleanup drive here, authorities said.

Two of the seven persons aboard the plane were killed. The survivors spent 44 hours on the 3700-foot peak near the wreckage of the D-C3 before search planes spotted them. (NEA Telephone)

Pope Pius XII Rallies, Vatican Reports Condition Satisfactory

VATICAN CITY (UP)—Gravely ill Pope Pius XII rallied with amazing strength today and a medical bulletin assured the world's 425 million Roman Catholic faithful that his condition was "satisfactory" despite continued stomach pains and hiccups.

The medical bulletin issued by the Pope's doctor, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, said he is suffering from "a peritoneal irritation accompanied by abdominal tension."

This morning the 78-year-old pontiff was vomiting and running a fever.

He is receiving nourishment directly.

The grave fears for the Pope's life which had been felt Thursday with the Vatican press office announcement that he had suffered a heart collapse had eased somewhat.

Say Was Misunderstanding

Vatican officials insisted today that there had been a "misunderstanding" in Thursday's announcement of a heart collapse. But there was no official announcement denying the reported heart trouble.

The medical bulletin, the first of the current illness, omitted any reference to the Pope's heart.

But there was no doubt that the Pope's illness, now described officially as stomach trouble, was the worst of the pontiff's 16-year reign.

The official bulletin on the Pope's condition was broadcast over the Italian state and Vatican radios at noon.

Around the world—from the cobblestones of St. Peter's Square to the four corners of the earth—Roman Catholics prayed for the Pope's recovery from the most serious illness of his 16-year reign.

The only close relative who was unaware of the Pope's grave danger was his sister, Geuseppina.

To Institute Local K. of C. Council Sunday

William Zimmer, chairman of the organizational committee of the Knights of Columbus, announced today that plans are complete for the institution of the Harrisburg Council of the order.

The impressive ceremonies of the order will be held Sunday and will be conducted by the Degree staffs of Mt. Carmel and Cairo, headed by District Deputies William Ryan and Bernard Wirth.

Delegation reservations have been received from Springfield, East St. Louis, and Peoria, and many hundreds of members of the order from southern Illinois will be present for the institution.

Comprising the charter member group of the new council will be one hundred men of this area, and the council will be known as the Madonna Council as a token of the Marian year.

Following the afternoon ceremonies to be held in the Eagles hall, a dinner for members and guests will be served at the Kurto Country club. The principal speaker at the dinner will be the state secretary of the Knights of Columbus in Illinois, Harry Sonnemaker of Peoria.

Zimmer, in announcing the completed plans for the institution, noted that the Knights of Columbus is the largest organization of Catholic men in the world, and that the local council will enter into the religious, social, and civic life of the community.

President Says Entire Group Is Responsible

Eisenhower Meets With Security Council, Cabinet

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower dispatched Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to New York today to press his demand for United Nations action to help free 11 Americans imprisoned as spies in Red China.

Mr. Eisenhower declared late Thursday that the U. N. cannot "retain its self-respect" if it fails to accept its responsibility for these men who fell into the hands of the Communists while serving under the organization's banner in Korea.

He called his National Security Council into session for the second time this week and scheduled a meeting of his cabinet immediately afterward. Dulles arranged to fly to New York as soon as the meetings were over to confer with America's chief delegate to the U. N., Henry Cabot Lodge.

Before Dulles' departure, diplomatic sources in New Delhi disclosed India had asked the Red Chinese government to release the imprisoned Americans but that the Chinese regime refused.

Lodge, after a hurry-up trip from Washington, held a 75-minute meeting in New York late Thursday with representatives of this country's Korean war allies.

The United States called a meeting of its 15 Korean allies at the United Nations today to determine what action the U. N. should take to force release of the American war prisoners.

"There was a possibility they ask Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to intervene personally with Peiping."

Lodge planned to ask the allied nations to demand release of 11 of the 13 Americans under sentence. The 11 are captured U. S. fliers. Lodge said the other two were civilians who fall into a different category.

Mr. Eisenhower was openly disturbed and angered by the Red imprisonment of uniformed American soldiers as spies. He said they were entitled to treatment as prisoners of war under the Korean armistice and that their detention was completely indefensible.

"How the United Nations can possibly disabuse itself of a feeling of responsibility in this matter and retain its self-respect, I wouldn't know," the President told his news conference.

Did Not Include Civilians

In discussing the U. N.'s responsibility, he specifically did not include two civilian employees of the Army—sentenced with the 11 airmen in China—on the grounds their status when they fell into Communist hands was cloudy. They were not on a U. N. combat mission at the time.

Both Republicans and Democrats applauded the U. N. move. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said "I think the President is exercising statesmanship and responsibility." Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) agreed.

Red Radio Claims U. S. Planes Flew Over China

TOKYO, Saturday (UP)—Radio Peiping charged today that nine American planes in three flights "intruded" into China Thursday, flying over Kwangtung and Kwangsi provinces.

The Chinese Communist broadcast monitored here by United Press, said that the first flight of four planes flew over Yankiang, Tsinpao, Maoming and Chikhai of Kwangtung province shortly after 3 a. m. EST Thursday.

The Red radio said one lone U. S. military plane crossed the area of Yankiang of Kwangtung province later.

The Red radio identified the planes only as "U. S. military planes." No other identification was given.

Predict Formosa Treaty Will Win Senate Approval

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 — American officials predicted today that the new U. S. Formosa defense treaty will make Red China doubly cautious about carrying out threats to "liberate" the Nationalist Chinese island stronghold.

They said the pact makes it clear the United States is determined to keep Formosa out of Red hands at any cost.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has said he hopes the treaty will lay at rest "once and for all" rumors and reports that the United States will in any manner agree to the abandonment of Formosa in the Pescadores to Communist control.

Under the treaty, Dulles said, the United States probably would strike at the Chinese mainland if the Communists attacked Formosa.

The treaty, which must be ratified by the Senate, was signed on Thursday after months of negotiations. Efforts to conclude it were stepped up after the Chinese Communist launched a campaign of threats to capture Formosa.

Senators generally predicted quick approval of the pact early next year. Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), a Democratic Far Eastern expert, applauded the pact today, saying it "plugs up the only remaining link in the Western Pacific chain of defense." But whether it will stabilize the situation, he said, "only time will tell. Sen.
John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) called it a good thing.

TWO FEATURES AT GRAND FRIDAY AND SATURDAY — Shelley Winters and Barry Sullivan are shown in a tense moment from Universal-International's timely drama, "Playgirl," in one feature of two films at the Grand. Also to be shown will be Rory Calhoun in "Dawn at Socorro."

DREW PEARSON SAYS:
State Department Knew About
13 American Prisoners in China
For One Year; Knowland
Won't Be Ousted As GOP
Senate Leader; Governor
Lodge Is Pushed As Ambassador To Portugal.

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles had known about the 13 U. S. fliers held by China ever since the Korean truce. They had been mentioned frequently in Peiping radio broadcasts, so anyone listening in also knew about them.

Nothing was done to secure their liberation. Prediction:
look for Moscow to intervene with Red China to free the 13 Americans as part of the current coexistence overtures. Ike is not going to be able to squeeze Senator Knowland out of the Senate GOP leadership no matter how often Knowland punctures and pillories the Eisenhower foreign policy. Ike has been pretty peeved at Knowland's speeches, but when Vice President Nixon talked to GOP Senate solons they wouldn't stand for bouncing Knowland. Incidentally, they didn't know whether Nixon was speaking for himself or the President, because Dick would like nothing better than to get his fellow Californian, Senator Knowland, demoted.

Sen. Herman Welker
of Idaho mistook the new senator from Nebraska, Roman Hruska, for a Senate aide and started ordering him around. Hruska promptly told Welker to get his own glass of water.

Friends of Colorado's Gene Miliken, one of the most respected members of the Senate, would like to work a deal whereby he would resign to let Gov. Dan Thornton take his place prior to January 1. Thornton would step down from the governorship to be succeeded by Lieut.
Gov. Allott, who becomes senator in January. Allott would then appoint Thornton to the Senate.

If this triple play is too long delayed, Big Ed Johnson, Democrat, will step into the governor's mansion and the deal won't work.

DIXON-YATES DICKERS
The Dixon-Yates combine has been dickering with the famed Steve Hannegan public relations firm to improve its relations.
They need it. (Only trouble is that one of Ike's closest golfing partners, William E. Robinson, is head of the Hannegan firm.)

When
Congressman Charles E. Howell, Democrat, who ran for the Senate in New Jersey, got a letter from the Democratic National committee asking for $100 to pay for the recount of Senate votes in Ohio, he wrote a caustic note that if the Democrats really wanted to pick up another Senate seat they could spend their money recounting ballots in New Jersey. There, he pointed out, Clifford Case, Republican, has a margin of some 3-000 votes, while in Ohio, George Bender, Republican, has a 6,000 margin over Senator Burke, Democrat. Democrats say they are so tired of having Republicans count them out in Hamilton county,
Ohio (Cincinnati), that it's worth $75,000 (cost of the recount) to teach the Republicans a lesson.

Astute Venezuelan Security Chief Pedro Estrada was in Washington to confer with J. Edgar Hoover. He reports that Venezuela, whose oil areas could be a tinder box in case of war, is safe from saboteurs.

The Food and Drug Administration has given a clean bill of health to use of boric acid in baby powders.
After a careful examination, FDA found boric acid beneficial.

CONGRATULATIONS
Congratulations to Douglass, Kans., on its 75th birthday last week. My grandfather, one of its earliest settlers, lived there before it was incorporated. He traveled to Kansas in a prairie schooner from Litchfield, Ill., where he was town constable. The Santa Fe RR had just been built, but he couldn't afford to travel that way and take his family. Douglass, a neat and tidy little city compared with the dirt thoroughfares of olden days, now boasts one of the most up-and-coming libraries in Kansas, the Copeland Memorial Library, a gift of Clarence Copeland. Also congratulations to the West Side Jewish community center in Los Angeles for dedicating a special library on press freedom. Among the first books to go in are "You Can't Print That" by Morris Ernst, famed New York libel lawyer; also the first Washington Merry-Go-Round book by Bob Allen and yours truly. It was written anonymously because we were afraid we'd be fired if we signed our names. We were fired anyway. Speaking of press freedom, the Federal Communications Commission is preparing a ruling which will kill off many struggling TV stations. The plan is to let big stations in big cities increase their power and coverage so they can blanket out the little fellows; also preclude them from carrying network programs. The big networks habitually give these little stations the cold shoulder.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Republican leaders are wire-pulling the White House to get John Lodge of Connecticut made ambassador to Portugal. He speaks a lot of languages; should make a good envoy. When Joe McCar-they complained to the Carroll Arms hotel about housing the committee for an Effective Congress, the committee was booted out. Later Joe gave the hotel a plug on the Senate floor. Joe, plus his henchmen, spends so much time at the hotel that a Mc-Carthy table is reserved permanently. Gen. Buck Lanham, former aide to Ike and the first general to lead American troops into Anheim across the German border is exiting from the army to join the Market Relations Network in New York. He once performed the Army's most important human relations network by integrating Negroes in the armed forces. Now he'll do public relations for Schenley, United Artists, Penn-Texas.

The White House didn't bother to call either Congressman Taber of New York or Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the House and Senate Appropriations committees about the appointment of Joe Campbell as comptroller general. It illustrates the way Ike gets his congressional relations snarled; for the comptroller reports direct to Congress, not to the White House.

Attention draft-ees: The Defense Department will ask Congress to let 100,000 draft-ees each year take a sample of universal military training instead of being drafted. If Congress approves, these draftees will be given their choice of the regular two-year draftee training, plus six years in the reserves; or a tough, intensified six months of UMT training, followed by nine and a half years in the reserves.

Atomic Energy Chairman Lewis
Strauss has been trying to label
President Eisenhower's plan for establishing an international atomic pool for peaceful purposes as strictly an American program. Secretary of State Dulles and our chief United Nations delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge, are opposed.
They insist on making it a United Nations program; otherwise, other nations won't participate.

A Message to the Citizens of Harrisburg Township High School District No. 101 from Your Board of Education

Our building fund rate is adequate for maintenance but the present educational fund limit of 50 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation does not provide sufficient funds for the minimum essentials of operation.

This present limit yields barely enough to pay teachers' salaries even though the report of the School Problems Commission shows that our last year's salaries averaged $520.03 less per teacher than the average for the state.

All extra-curricular activities such as athletics, Purple Clarion, Year Book, etc., are completely self-supporting and do not receive any money from tax funds.

Our rate is one of the lowest in effect as indicated by the 1951 rates reported by the following districts in our area:

HARRISBURG	50	Carbondale Comm.	78	Salem	54
Eldorado	69	Murphysboro	75	Flora	68
Equality	96	Carterville	75	Fairfield	55
Carrier Mills	61	Herrin	1.00	Bridgeport	75
Shawneetown	96	Frankfort	80	Lawrenceville	75
Rosiclare	65	Benton	65	Thompsonville	60
Golconda	54	Elkville	95	Galatia	72
Vienna	75	Pinckneyville	68	Du Quoin	62
Metropolis	75	Mt. Vernon	71	Valier	1.00
Anna	75	Centralia	62	Zeigler	1.00
				Christopher	75

Unless prices continue to rise a rate increase of only 5c to 10c on the $100 assessed valuation will probably be sufficient for necessary expenses and the proposed limit of 71c would never be necessary, but it is unreasonable to assume that we can continue to operate our school on a lower rate than that required by any other district, so we recommend that you go to the polls on Saturday and vote YES on the proposal.

Woman, Reelected To Legislature, Dies in Auto Crash

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Republican majority in the 1955 Illinois House has been reduced to four seats by the auto accident death of Mrs. Hazel McCaskrin, Rock Island.

Mrs. McCaskrin, 63, who was reelected to her third term as a state representative Nov. 2, died Thursday when the car in which she was riding overturned on a snow-covered road near Long Grove, Iowa.

Her loss to the GOP cuts the party's majority when the House convenes next month to 78-74. Seventy-seven votes constitute a majority.

Gov. William G. Stratton could call a special election to fill the vacancy. However, it would take up to six months before the complicated election procedure could be completed and the seat filled.

Mrs. McCaskrin was the widow of Rep. Harry McCaskrin, a legislator for 20 years. Her son, Rock Island Atty. Harry McCaskrin, was with her when the fatal accident occurred.

Democrats Open Meeting to Pick National Chairman

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Democratic National Committee opened an important two-day conference in the Deep South today amid predictions that the party would reach a satisfactory agreement on its loyalty pledge which alienated Dixie in 1952.

But a real battle appeared to be shaping up over selection of a new party chairman here to succeed retiring Stephen A. Mitchell.

Charles Green Rites At Leamington Saturday

M'Carthy Topic Of Talk at White House Reception

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy wasn't there in person, but he was a frequent topic of conversation at a glittering White House reception Thursday night.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower played hosts at the fancy affair for 1,800 chiefs of civilian and military departments. To keep the party to manageable proportions, only military officers of the rank of major general and rear admiral and above were invited.

McCarthy's name cropped up often around Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.), the man who sparked the Senate's censure debate which ended only a short while before the White House affair.

Flanders, attending the party as a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, at one point was greeted by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson who asked, "How's the battle?"

The Wisconsin Republican's name also appeared when Mrs. William Rogers, wife of a Washington doctor, pinned for a brief moment an "I'm for McCarthy" button on her formal gown.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower descended from the upper floor of the White House to receive the guests promptly at 9 p. m. They slipped out to the back elevator at 10:15.

The First Lady, wearing an off-the-shoulder pink satin gown, looked a little strained as she and the chief executive paused at the foot of the stairs and waited for the strains of "Hail to the Chief" to usher them into the Blue Room where they received the long line of guests. But she was smiling and waving to friends as they departed.

Field of 23 in Second Day of Springer Spaniel Field Trials

MARION, Ill. — A field of 23 dogs, including the 1953 champion, went into the second day of the National English Springer Spaniel Field Trial Assn. championship stake at Crab Orchard Refuge today.

F. T. Ch. Micklewood Seud of Armforth Kennels, owned by Philip Armour Jr., Chicago, came through the first day's competition, along with 10 other champions of other field trials including two past international winners.

Scheduled today were two land series in which the Spaniels hunt out planted pheasants, mark them when they're shot and then retrieve the birds on signal from their handlers. A water trial also was scheduled in which the dogs retrieve live, bound ducks thrown into the water.

A land series and a water series Saturday will wind up the championship stake. An amateur handlers' shooting dog stake will be held Sunday.

Football Writers Vote UCLA National Grid Champions of Year

NEW YORK — The Football Writers Association of America today voted UCLA the national collegiate football champions of 1954.

By a vote of 4 to 1, the group selected the Pacific Coast conference champions over Ohio State, the Big Ten champions. Both teams finished the season with perfect records, nine victories against no defeats.

As the nation's No. 1 team, UCLA will be presented the first Grantland Rice Memorial Trophy, donated by Look magazine.

Native Dancer Named Racing Champ of Year

NEW YORK — Native Dancer ruled the turf world today as the Thoroughbred Racing Association's American champion for 1954 even though the Gray Ghost of Sagamore Farm raced only three times during the year and has been retired since early August.

His selection as the best race horse in America as well as the leading handicapper performer was announced by the TRA Thursday night at its annual dinner when owner Alfred G. Vanderbilt accepted the two trophies.

Other division awards were given to Lawrence T. Phipps for King Commander, the steeplechase champion; William Woodward Jr. for Nashua, the best juvenile colt; Mrs. H. C. Phipps for High Voltage, the best two-year-old filly; Robert J. Kleberg Jr. for High Gun, the top three-year-old colt; William Du Pont Jr. for Parlo, the leading three-year-old filly; and Mrs. Charles Silvers for her handicapper mare, Lavender Hill.

Whitworth Named Head Grid Coach At Alabama U.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. — Alabama hoped for a rebirth as a grid power today under new Head Coach J. B. (Ears) Whitworth, signed to replace the aging Harold (Red) Drew.

Whitworth, a star guard at Alabama in his collegiate days, was returned to his alma mater Thursday, apparently by lure of more money than the $11,000 he was receiving at Oklahoma A and M. He was given a three-year contract.

Drew, greying and one of the oldest football coaches in the business at 61, was fired although he will stay at Alabama as head track coach and associate professor of athletics.

His team won the Southeastern conference crown a year ago and played in the Cotton Bowl. However, this year Alabama won four, lost five and tied two.

Whitworth coached Oklahoma A and M to a 5-4-1 season in the Missouri Valley conference this season and still had one year of a six-year contract to go.

UCLA Coach Gets New Contract

LOS ANGELES — Coach Henry R. (Red) Sanders received his reward today for leading UCLA to the national collegiate football championship—a new contract and a raise in pay.

The soft-spoken coach, who just finished his sixth season at UCLA, joined with Athletic Director Wilbur Jones in announcing that Sanders had signed.

His salary under the old contract was estimated at $18,500 a year and it was considered a certainty that he received a proper "reward" for leading UCLA to its greatest football season in history.

Carrier Mills Graders Defeat Muddy, 40-25, In Midget Loop Game

The Carrier Mills grade school cagers won another Midget conference game Thursday, defeating Muddy 40-25. The game was played at Muddy.

The winners got away fast, holding a 12-0 quarter-time lead and were in front 24-6 at the half.

In the preliminary game Carrier Mills also won, 25-21. However, the winners held commanding leads of 19-1 at the quarter and 23-3 at halftime. The game was tightened when the Carrier Mills coach used a lot of younger players in the final two quarters.

In another Midget loop contest played yesterday Galatia racked up its seventh league victory, winning from Dorrisville 25-15.

Illinois Stingy In 88-34 Win Over Butler Five

By United Press

Illinois surpassed in stinginess even the Oklahoma Aggies, those famed misers of the court, as both nationally ranked basketball teams opened the 1954-55 season with impressive victories.

Year-in and year-out (15 of the last 19 years), the Aggies have allowed their rivals fewer points than any team in the nation. But Thursday night the Illini throttled Butler 88-34, while the Aggies were subduing Howard Payne, 71-44, both in home-court games.

Illinois, ranked 15th nationally by the United Press Board of Coaches in the pre-season ratings issued today, proved its strength by roaring to a 43-12 halftime lead and then clearing the bench in coasting home. Coach Harry Combes also unveiled a new star in 6-foot, 7-inch sophomore center George Bonasalle, who won scoring honors with 18 points.

The Aggies, ranked 14th nationally, dominated their game with equal ease and much of Howard Payne's scoring came against Coach Hank Iba's reserves.

Niagara, which shares that 14th ranking with the Aggies, also made a successful debut with an 81-60 triumph over Buffalo State Teachers. The Purple Eagles probably could have turned in an impressive defensive showing, too, but Coach Taps Gallagher yanked his regulars early to save them for an important test Saturday night against 17th-ranked Fordham. Six-foot, 7-inch Joe Farrell of the Teachers took scoring honors with 22 points.

High Scoring Emphasized
The emphasis was on high scoring at Clinton, N. C., as Wake Forest scored its second straight win in two nights, 99-68, over Belmont college. The previous night the Deacons had whipped George Washington, defending Southern conference champion, 107-86, so they racked up 206 points in two nights. Center Dick Henric of the Deacons had only 15 points, compared to 36 the night before, so Bob Barnes of Belmont won scoring honors with 37 points.

In other leading games, Western Kentucky dined Gustavus Adolphus, 90-79; Baylor edged Hardin-Simmons, 67-63; New York university downed New York Maritime, 75-65; Houston drubbed Texas A and M, 85-63; South Carolina routed Georgia, 74-54; DePaul crushed Kalamazoo, 98-46; and Davidson beat Guilford, 94-75.

Brennan Has Chance to Equal Leahy Mark as Irish Are Favored to Beat SMU

By United Press

Terry Brennan, the boy Notre Dame sent on a man's errand this football season, will lead the Irish against Southern Methodist Saturday with a chance to equal the mark turned in by Frank Leahy during his rookie year as a head coach.

Leahy, who retired as Notre Dame head coach last January and personally selected Brennan as his successor, wound up with a 9-1 record at Boston College in 1939. That was "the masters' first season as a head coach."

In 1940, Leahy's B. C. club was acclaimed the mythical national champion after running off 10 straight victories, then beat Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl. The next season, he moved on to Notre Dame, where his teams lost only 11 of 107 games during an 11-year span.

Under Brennan this season, the Irish have won eight of nine games. They are favored by 13 1-2 points to make the Mustangs their ninth and last victim of the season.

Last Laugh

If the Irish come through for Brennan, the likeable, 26-year old mentor will have the last laugh on those who earlier this year thought he was too young to move from the Chicago high school coaching ranks to one of the most important posts on the collegiate scene.

However, one Leahy record already has escaped his successor. In his first year at Notre Dame, Leahy's young men went unbeaten in nine games although tied by Army. In Brennan's second game at the helm this season, the Irish lost to Purdue, thus ruining their chances for an undefeated season.

A capacity crowd at the Cotton Bowl and countless television viewers around the nation will be "sitting in" on this latest ND-SMU battle, which will be the sixth between the teams. All but one previous contest has been decided by one point or one touchdown.

Injury May Affect Game
Another squaker was anticipated until the Mustangs' ace quarterback, Duane Nutt, suffered a broken collarbone in last Saturday's game with Texas Christian. He will be replaced by John Roach, an unseasoned youngster who is expected to be no match for Notre Dame's All-America signal caller, Ralph Guglielmi.

Guglielmi will be playing his last game for the Irish, along with such stalwarts as ends Dan Shannon and Paul Matz, tackles Sam Palumbo, Bob Ready and Frank Varrichione, guard Jack Lee and halfback Joe Heap.

In the only other major games on Saturday's wrap-up program, South Carolina, Army's early-season conqueror, will entertain the Citadel; Houston will be at Detroit; Denver plays hosts to the University of Mexico; and Tampa visits Florida State.

THE STORY: Greg Seaver, a young man who wants to do things on his own, leaves the security of a job with his stepfather to be Wade Daggett's chauffeur. Daggett, a well-to-do invalid, becomes sympathetic toward Rupert Landusky, an alien who is in the country illegally, after Daggett and Greg found him suffering from exposure on their route. They cannot decide what should be done about Rupert. Then Greg meets Hannah Blanke, who had been jilted and robbed. Daggett suggests that she join the party as his niece till some plans have been made about her.

Spring was poetic but not to Hannah. Call her attention to a green field and she was as likely as not to discuss fertilizer. Her eyes were too large and her mouth too wide but her body was beautiful if you liked them sturdy. Rupert obviously did. Greg preferred a more ethereal type.

Daggett commented tartly on this preference one night when Greg was helping him to undress. "You would admire those bloodless Rossetti girls. Personally, I can't see much poetry in anemia. I never look at the picture of a pre-Raphaelite female without thinking a few shots of cod liver oil would improve her."

Greg tried to smother his grin. "Just the same, I am right," Daggett insisted. "No one should be exposed to poets until he comes of age and has a little experience for ballast. There is one thing I've noticed: poets don't practice what they preach. If you'll observe what they do, not what they write, you'll see that they keep those ethereal dream girls where they belong. On paper."

Hannah had changed everything. She was a superlative cook. No one could deny that. Though even that had its drawbacks, for while Rupert looked better every day, Daggett was putting on too much weight.

But when Hannah got a meal the trailer ceased to be a vagabond camp and became a farm kitchen. You might as well have a mortgage and be done with it, Greg thought.

Something about Hannah did not let you dream dreams; she made you remember always that you were a component part of reality from which there was no escape. In fact, Hannah was the rarest of people; she was at home in reality.

She cooked for them and mended their clothes. She was sweet-tempered and adaptable. By nature the least adventurous woman Greg had ever met, she adjusted herself to a gypsy life as unconcernedly as she sewed a button on their shirts.

Hannah, in short, had been a fatal mistake but the two other men did not feel it as Greg did. Daggett delighted in her; his eyes followed her as she bustled around the trailer in amusement and affection. He chuckled when her down-to-earth common sense checked Rupert in mid-flight of fancy.

Rupert had managed to control his drinking since she joined them. He often went walking with her. "If you don't look out," Greg warned him, "you will fall in love with her and settle down on a farm to raise cows and pigs. Not to speak of a large family of children. Then what will become of your ideas of big business?"

"Settle down," Rupert repeated wonderingly. "Settle down," he repeated, in order to savor the words. "No," he said, smiling, "not with Hannah. I would be no good for her."

"That's the first time I've heard you admit you aren't an expert with women," Greg commented.

"I am an expert," Rupert said coolly. "After all, what can you expect with my experience? But Hannah—I think she needs something I lost a long time ago, a kind of simplicity of heart. She has the humility, a generosity that would be easy to abuse. You know, when one reads American magazines abroad one expects to find the women very superior and aggressive about their liberties. And then one finds a woman like Hannah who can be happy only in bondage, but bondage to someone she loves."

"She isn't still in love with that guy who jilted her, is she?"

Rupert gave him a curious look. "Why not ask her?"

Greg had no intention of asking her. She was a nice girl but she was in the way. She took the adventure out of the trip. Not that it was her fault. Some girls could work themselves to death to please you, as Hannah did, and they were as exciting to have around as the kitchen stove.

"Then if you aren't interested, why do you hang around her all the time?" Greg was chagrined by his own snappish tone.

"Sympathy. Interest. Warmth. Comfort. Those are Hannah's gifts."

"But not for you?"

"Not for me. A man, after all, cannot take everything and give nothing. Even a starving man. And what I have left to give a woman would not have value for Hannah."

When Hannah joined them, they had to make one important change. Up to that time they had stopped at the nearest trailer park when Daggett got tired. Now they had to consult maps and arrange to get to a town where the girl could spend the night at a good hotel, which took all the spontaneity out of the trip. Greg grumbled, and then you worried for fear she would not find a place to sleep or something would happen to her.

He was thinking of this as he turned onto the side road. No telling where it went. If they got stuck somewhere, Hannah might not have a place to sleep that night.

Prisoner to Die in Chair Stops Jail Break

Knocks Out Escape Leader; Says Attempt Hurt Appeal Chances

CHICAGO (AP) — Paul Crump, awaiting death in the electric chair, said today he stopped an attempted jail break with his fists because "those guys were hurting my chances of appeal."

Crump, a 23-year-old Negro, knocked out the escape leader with one punch and led other prisoners and a guard in subduing three other rioters, two of them killers, in the Cook County Jail Thursday night.

A convicted murderer, Crump's only hope is his appeal pending before the Illinois Supreme Court.

The escape attempt started in Tier "G," where capital offenders and "hardcase" prisoners are housed.

The leader of the attempt, convicted murderer Elmer Sherwood, jammed a phony gun fashioned of brown prison soap into the ribs of guard Jack Fahey. Fahey had entered the cell block unarmed to return a prisoner from the courtroom.

Sherwood and his three comrades seized Fahey's keys and unlocked the door to a corridor, where they smashed a window and attempted to squeeze through.

Then they returned to the recreation room where they had left Fahey and eight other convicts.

As Sherwood started to rip a leg off a table, Crump shouted "You Births

To Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Greene, Bellingham, Wash., a girl named Elizabeth Sue, weighing seven pounds, eight ounces, born Nov. 25. The mother is the former Rose Dewar of Harrisburg.
